

MRS. WEST DIVORCED IN SEVEN MINUTES

Former Jennie Jerome Spends Two Minutes on Witness Stand.

WOMAN'S NAME A SECRET

Victorious Plaintiff Will Resume Title of Lady Randolph Churchill.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, July 15.—It took the divorce court only seven minutes to grant a decreed nisi to-day to Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, formerly Miss Jennie Jerome of New York and afterward Lady Randolph Churchill. A divorce was never obtained more easily in this country. Mrs. Cornwallis-West was on the stand only two minutes, her counsel, F. E. Smith and Mr. Kemp, making things easy for her by doing all the talking.

The case had already been placed at the foot of the list of undefended cases, but was jumped to the front of the remaining cases on the day's calendar shortly after 4 o'clock, the proceedings obviously having been prearranged.
"A pressing engagement" was the excuse Mr. Smith gave for asking to have the case taken out of its turn.
The president of the court meekly allowed this course to be adopted. Otherwise there was no unusual incident.

The identification of the woman with whom the defendant was accused of having miscondacted himself at a Paddington hotel on March 29, 30 and 31 last was cleverly concealed. It is significant, however, that this incident occurred only two or three weeks after the court had issued an order for a restitution of Mrs. Cornwallis-West's conjugal rights.

One new letter was introduced in the case. It was a short one sent by George Cornwallis-West to his wife on April 2 after the hotel incident. This was handed to the judge, but its contents were not disclosed.

Plaintiff Looked Ill.

Mr. Smith, leading counsel for Mrs.
Cornwallis-West, opened the hearing with a short recital of the granting of rights to his client and the failure of the respondent to obey the order. Mrs.
Cornwallis-West then took the stand.
She looked ill and her appearance was remarked upon by those in the court.
She is much thinner than when she appeared in court last March. She wore a fashionable blue tailor made gown with lace ruffles in the corsage and a large black hat trimmed with a mass of black tulle and a light blue ribbon on the side. She had a wide cream ribbon around her neck and carried a gold evening bag.

Mrs. Cornwallis-West's testimony consisted in merely saying "yes" or "no" to questions by her counsel as to her husband leaving the house and his refusal to return as ordered by the court.

A hotel chambermaid was the next witness, testifying as to the respondent being at a Paddington hotel where she is employed on the three nights referred to. She identified the respondent by a photograph, which had been shown to her. She testified further that the woman who was with him was not Mrs. Cornwallis-West.

The judge then granted a decree nisi and Mrs. Cornwallis-West and her two lawyers immediately left the court by the back exit. A taxicab was hailed and the successful divorcee hurried to the street, all the time holding her umbrella before her face to foil the camera men. One of these tried to get a snapshot of the former Mrs. Cornwallis-West as she took her seat in the taxi, but was again foiled by the umbrella.

To resume Name of Churchill.
It is announced that the former Mrs.
Cornwallis-West will resume the name of Lady Randolph Churchill. One report has it that her sons, one of whom is the first Lord of the Admiralty, want her to resume their father's name.

The estrangement of the Cornwallis-West's has occupied the attention of the newspapers since last January, but it was not until March that the preliminary court proceedings were begun.
Mrs. Cornwallis-West is 59 years old.
George Cornwallis-West was born on November 14, 1874, the same year in which Miss Jennie Jerome became the bride of Lord Randolph Churchill. One of the Cornwallis-West sisters is Princess Henry of Prussia and the other the Duchess of Westminster. Cornwallis-West served in the Boer war in South Africa and was very friendly with Winston Churchill. Shortly after he returned to London in 1900 he and Lady Randolph Churchill were married, much to the surprise of society.

MRS. EUGENE BOISSEVAIN

INEZ MILHOLLAND A SUFFRAGETTE-BRIDE

Weds Wealthy Dutchman in London, but Won't Desert Cause.

MARCONI PLAYED CUPID

Couple to Spend Honeymoon on North Sea, Then Return Here.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, July 15.—Miss Inez Mil-holland, the handsome New York suffragette, was married in the Kensington registry office this afternoon to Eugene Boissevain, a wealthy Dutchman of Amsterdam.

There were no signs of the bride's suffragette at the quiet wedding in the registry office. "Marriage," said the bride to the correspondent of The Sun, "will make no difference in my suffragette plans, but I do not propose to take part in the campaign in England, because I have other things to attend to." The bride's sister and brother and the bridegroom's brother and his best man, Signor Marconi, the wireless inventor, were present at the registry office.

On the arrival of the bride's father from New York there will be a religious marriage at the Chapel Royal, Savoy, to please him. The couple will sail for New York on August 2.
The bridegroom is engaged in the wireless business and was introduced to Miss Milholland in New York last winter by Signor Marconi. His father, Charles Boissevain of Amsterdam, is the owner of real plantations in Java. He is also the principal owner of the Handelsblad, the foremost newspaper in Amsterdam.
The couple will spend their honeymoon in a cruise on the North Sea.
The bride will continue her law practice when she returns to New York. Her trip to England was made especially for the wedding. Great efforts were made to keep the story of the wedding a secret, but it leaked out almost at the last moment.

Miss Inez Milholland was graduated from Vassar in 1909 and while there she kept the faculty on pins and needles with her advanced views on feminism and socialism. It was she who started the suffrage movement in Vassar, enrolling two-thirds of the students in the cause and then proceeding to teach them the meaning of socialism.

She held a record for throwing the basketball. During the Taff parade in 1908 she was among the women who took a room on Fifth avenue and shouted "Votes for Women!" through megaphones out of the windows. Miss Mil-holland made a speech for the cause on that occasion which didn't gain her much favor at her alma mater, but which drew a crowd of male listeners.

In 1909 she and her fellow suffragettes attended several meetings devoted to socialism and suffrage which also were frowned upon by the Vassar faculty. After graduation she began to look around for a law school in which to matricate. She tried to argue her way into Oxford and Cambridge, but didn't succeed, and then she tried the Harvard law school, and here again she met with failure. She finally obtained her degree this year at the law school of New York University. She said once that women should have a knowledge of law and the Constitution before they could be expected to do intelligent political work.

In the fall of 1909 Miss Milholland took an active part as a picket in the shirtwaist makers' strike and was twice arrested for disorder in that connection.
She was discharged each time, although once she had to stay in a cell for an hour until her father, John E. Milholland, came to bail her out.

In November, 1910, she knelt on the sidewalk in front of the Hotel Normand on Broadway and chanted suffrage slogans on the pavement. To the crowd that gathered she discoursed on suffrage, and some of them accepted her invitation to come to the Belmont and look over suffrage literature.

Miss Milholland, while an American, has lived a great part of her life in England, where her family has a home at 4 Prince of Wales Terrace, Kennington, London.

BULGAR PREMIER RESIGNS.

Reports of Atrocities Committed by Both Sides in War.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, July 15.—The only news affecting the crisis in the Balkans is the statement from Sofia that Dr. Danoff, who accepted the Premiership a month ago, has resigned. No details are given.
There are more reports from both sides of alleged atrocities. The Greeks accuse the Bulgarians of burning the village of Doxati, near Drama, and massacring 500 of the inhabitants. The pursuing Greeks overtook the Bulgarians and a sharp fight ensued. The Bulgarians retreated and left seventy wagonloads of ammunition on the field.

Bulgaria also charges that the Greeks have been massacring people and committing other atrocities which are equally as horrible as those charged to the Bulgarians. The Bulgarians say that when the Greeks entered the town of Pravitsa they massacred the entire population.

The Serbian Government denies the report that it has refused to enter into peace negotiations with Bulgaria. Serbia is ready to enter into negotiations just as soon as properly accredited Bulgarian representatives reach Belgrade.
It was also announced at Belgrade that complete quiet prevails along the whole front of the army.

TO ALLOW ANNA GOULD'S APPEAL

Annulment Case of Duchess to Be Heard Nov. 16.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

ROME, July 15.—The chief appeal court of the Vatican heard to-day the demand in the appeal against the decision of the Rota tribunal annulling the marriage of Anna Gould, now the Duchess de Talleyrand-Perigord, and Count Boni de Castellane. It decided that the appeal of the Duchess should be allowed owing to the fact that a summons to appear had not been delivered to her and other irregularities committed by the Archbishop of Paris.

Owing to the proximity of the holidays the court ordered the postponement of the publication of the papal decree ordering the appeal to be heard again until the October opening of the new Vatican Sessions Court. The hearing will be held on November 16, when the Duchess de Talleyrand-Perigord will be called as a witness.

KING ALFONSO GETS $500,000.

Lusitania's Will Leaving Him That Sum Declared Valid.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

PARIS, July 15.—The civil court at St. Gaudens upheld to-day the validity of the will of Albert Sapene, formerly Mayor of a small town near Toulon, who bequeathed $500,000 to King Alfonso of Spain.

Sapene, who was an ardent royalist and a great admirer of the Spanish King, died in an asylum. His sister sought to have the will set aside on the ground that Sapene was insane when he made it.

The court held that Sapene was fully able to conduct his own business, although he suffered from the mania of persecution, and had a valid reason in an old family quarrel for disinheriting his sister.

AGENT OF FRANCE TO INVESTIGATE FRISCO

M. de Peyster Will Be Sent Here by Minister of Finance on This Mission.

Listing of Frisco Securities on Paris Bourse Gives Basis in Official Action.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

PARIS, July 15.—The Minister of Finance some time ago placed M. de Pey-ster, one of his inspectors, in the office of the National Securities Company for three months to study the situation in regard to the Frisco receivership. He will now send M. de Peyster to the United States to collect information in regard to the position of the St. Louis and San Francisco bonds and the plans for a reorganization of the company.

The action of the French Government in appointing a representative to go into Frisco affairs here was not unexpected among the New York bankers. Maurice Leon, representative in this country for the French Government in legal affairs, who has represented also the Paris Bourse, a semi-Government institution, and French banks in American security transactions, left for France less than a month ago for the purpose of acquainting the French officials with the condition of affairs in the Frisco. He is now on his way back to America.

Mr. Leon advocated, before he left, an investigation of the company's accounts and its banking transactions, the prices of the road paid for its money and the acquisition of subsidiaries by the central company. He said that he believed the French investors should have personal representation in this respect.

Position of French Investors.

The listing of the Frisco securities on the Paris Bourse places them under semi-official surveillance of the Government as well as the exchange authorities. There is a measure of responsibility that the Government assumes in such listing that has brought about the present mission of a deputy of finance. French investors bought approximately $28,000,000 of the general first bonds of the Frisco and $5,000,000 of the first mortgage bonds of the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico.

One factor that brought the French investors peculiarly into the foreground of attention at the time of the receivership was that $3,000,000 of the general lien bonds were sold to the French only three weeks before the receivership and at unusually high prices. The French investors bought the bonds at 88, when the price on the Stock Exchange here was ten points lower. Prince Poniatowski, who spent several weeks here recently and who was the leader in the marketing of the bonds to the French, explained this transaction by saying that the sale had been contracted for by the bankers some time before the receivership and that the trial of the bonds on this side to the low figure.

Early in the receivership it was reported that representatives of the French investors in foreign bonds, an associated body, would come here to investigate. They did not come.

May Look Up Other Matters.

It was considered likely yesterday that the representatives of the French Finance Ministry on his visit here would take occasion to go into the affairs of railroads and industrials not widely known here that have sold large amounts of securities to the French. One of these is the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf Railroad and Railway, a line largely in Oklahoma which is little known, and which of a $20,000,000 bond issue offered $10,000,000 in France in March, 1912. Much of the line was under construction. The securities were largely bought in France by small holders, who made frequent inquiries of news sources here as to the nature of their investment.

WED FOUR TIMES, ARRESTED.

Man Who Married Both in New York and Hoboken Caught.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

BUDAPEST, July 15.—R. J. Schnitzer, manager of an automobile company, was arrested in court to-day on a charge of having committed bigamy and also of having taken the money of the four women whom he had married.

According to the charges Schnitzer was married first in Vienna in 1908. He disappeared soon afterward with his wife's money and went to New York.
There he married again without getting a divorce, and soon disappeared with the money of wife No. 2. He went to Hoboken and soon left her, incidentally taking her money along. Then he went to Eastbourne, England, where he procured a fourth wife. He returned to Vienna, where he was arrested, and was brought here for trial.

Schnitzer asserts he is an American citizen and the court adjourned to-day to ascertain the American law on the subject. Schnitzer offered bail of $500, but the court demanded $4,000. He could not pay it and was sent to jail.

is the daughter of the Princess Royal, King George's eldest sister. Prince

King George's uncle, the Duke of Connaught.

The Duchess of Fife succeeded to the title upon the death of her father at

CALL CONGRESS IN RIVA CASE

Must Get Permission of That Body to Prosecute.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

HAVANA, July 15.—The Supreme Court decided to-day that it was necessary to secure the permission of Congress before the courts could proceed with the prosecution of Senator Vidal Morales and Representative Arias for the murder of Gen. Riva, the former Chief of Police.

In view of this decision President Menocal decided to call Congress in extra session within two or three days for the purpose of receiving a petition from the court asking permission to proceed with the trial of the two of its members. The consent of the Senate is almost sure to be given and the House probably will vote in the affirmative, as the followers of Senator Zayas will join the Conservatives in granting the permission. Senator Zayas visited President Menocal this morning and afterward said he had given the President assurances of the Zavista support.

It was learned to-day that the automatic pistol which Gov. Ashbert, who is accused of firing the fatal shot at Gen.
Riva, showed to President Menocal after the shooting and later surrendered to the court because it was fully loaded and would prove that he had not fired a shot, is the same pistol which Representative Molero used two years ago in a street duel with Representative Sanchez Figueras, who killed him.

one for the complete autonomy of outer Mongolia under the suzerainty of China.
The Chinese Parliament was summoned to-day to take up the demands, which have caused much excitement in the capital.

Americans Find Ideal Cooperation
Not a Dream There.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

DUBLIN, July 15.—The American Agricultural Commission held a conference this morning at Plunkett House, the home of Sir Horace Plunkett, the leader of the Irish land credit movement.

George Russell, editor of the Irish Homestead, read a paper on rural communities, and Lady Findall, president of the United Irish Women's Society, described the work of that organization.

Dr. Kenyon Butterfield, acting president of the commission, expressed appreciation of what the members of that body had learned in Ireland—that ideal cooperation was not a dream in that country. They had also learned, he said, the fundamental division of functions between State assistance of agriculture and voluntary effort.

Dr. Butterfield declared that the inquiry stage of the work of the commission had closed. The commission then adopted a resolution of thanks to all those who had assisted or entertained them.
On the way to Queenstown to-morrow the commissioners will visit various places and institutions in the south of Ireland.
